OVERVIEW OF CYBER SECURITY BOOT CAMP?

Children increasingly and actively are engaging online; more than 70% of these engagements take place on social networks and instant messengers. Children intentionally give themselves extra years when registering an account because they want to utilize social networks far earlier than the usual official age limit of 14. The child should understand that virtually anyone can access all information once it is online. This information can be used by people with wrong intentions.

Our instructors are confident that learning security lessons from other people's mistakes rather than your own is best. And they'll educate on how to put this in good practice.

CYBER SECURITY BOOTCAMP

This course does not teach you how and when to become a hacker and steal information from websites. We are not criminals!

Not hacking, but teaching how to defend, is our aim. It is essential to be aware of protection mechanism and to be protected fully, children need to have a general understanding of hacking techniques.

This is what we teach them!
